Bay Only City To Show Increase In Business Activity For Feb. 1953

Observations..

By UDELL

Clifton Ganus, owner of the A & G Restaurant and Sandwich shops in New Orleans, Mrs. Drake's Sandwich business and Finest Foods, Inc., has purchased 770 acres in Hancock County through A. G. Dantagnan. Mr. Ganus, who bought one and one half miles on the Flat Top Road and two miles on the Jourdan River, is planning to raise chickens for egg producers and raise broilers. His restaurants, etc., use 10,000 eggs daily. He plans on putting in an experimental farm for raising vegetables, stock beef and dairy cattle. Mr. Ganus, who is a member of the Board of Directors of United Gas and of the Terminal Board of the City of New Orleans, is originally from Houston. A home, as well as farm building and housing facilities will be built on the land.

When the Red Cross bloodmobile comes to Bay St. Louis Tuesday, April 28, be sure and give your pint of blood. The new and used car dealers of New Orleans and nearby parishes are assisting in the recruitment of blood donors in all chapters participating in this region, including Hancock County. The first prize will be a $2,000 automobile. Many other valuable prizes will be awarded.

The Times-Picayune-New Orleans States in their Dixie Roto magazine will have a story about the Jourdan River area in this Sunday's edition. This is the kind of publicity that Hancock County needs. James L. Crump, owner of Holly-Bluff-on-the-Jourdan, in all ads that he places in national advertising media, mentions the area's natural beauty and assets.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce is "on the ball." They are planning for a county-wide picnic and Fourth of July celebration for this year. More details will be given next week following a meeting for completion of plans.

Bay Lions Honor Contest Winner

Miss Anna Frances Rose, 15 year old Bay High freshman, was guest of honor at the first April meeting of the Bay St. Louis Lions Club Monday at Hotel Reed.

Miss Rose won the recent contest sponsored by the Hancock County Soil Conservation Commission; her winning essay, "Soil Conservation and What It Means to Our Country," was part of the Land Emphasis Week program, announced by the Governor of Mississippi for the week of April 6. Miss Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rose, won a $25 bond.

The club heard a report on the latest developments in the Lion-sponsored Miss Hospitality Contest for Hancock County. Six civic organizations have been invited to furnish a contestant; all organizations are welcomed to place an entry.

The main judging will be on personality, friendliness and general appearance. Outstanding beauty in face and form are not of top importance. The closing date for all Hancock County entries will be June 6, and the local judging will be held June 13.

Three out-of-town judges will pick the local winner, who will go to Jackson in July. The total of all entry fees will be given to the Hancock County "Miss Hospitality" to help her offset any extra clothing expense.

Invitations to enter the contest and sponsor a candidate are already in the hands of the Rotary, C. of C., K. C.'s, Yacht Club, Garden Club and the American Legion. The Lion Club committee stated they will announce their candidate for "Miss Hospitality" next Friday in the Echo. The next meeting is scheduled for April 27. Guests of the Lions were Miss Rose, and her mother.

Kergosien Seeks Office of Mayor

TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS:

I wish to take this method in announcing my candidacy for the office of Mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis. In making my decision to run, I have analyzed every phase of the duties that may confront me in fulfilling my obligation to the public.

I shall give a short outline of my background.

I was born in Hancock County, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Kergosien, lived in Bay St. Louis since 1911, graduated from St. Stanislaus College, served as deputy clerk of courts for sixteen years, deputy Tax Collector for four years and was elected Sheriff and Tax Collector for four years. At the present time I am successfully operating a Real Estate business. I have dealt with the public all of my adult life and I feel sure my record will stand for itself.

I belong to a number of civic organizations and have held office in them. I have always worked for the betterment of the community. It is my intention to give full cooperation with elected officials towards the development of a sound program for drainage, sewerage, streets and civic improvements. I shall also propose and work for a system by which we may have equalization in assessments. With my experience as above outlined, I think I am qualified to handle the work of the office to which I aspire. With a systematic program and cooperation from elected officials our city can further progress.

To the city employees who have faithfully performed their duties, I want to say that I have no intention of releasing them. On the contrary, I think that if their work is satisfactory they should feel secure in their positions. I am soliciting votes from all the people and will represent all the people without discrimination.

I realize that it will be difficult to contact all the voters, it is almost impossible to do so by plane. I am in no way associated with any faction, having made my decision to enter the race from the solicitations from good, reputable, independent citizens. I think I will receive votes from all groups with no pledges or obligations to any.

Do not be influenced by anyone, use your own judgment, as stated above, you know the candidates and I trust I will be your selection.

Visits Grandparents

Aylward D. Cole of New Orleans spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Gipson, Aylward, who formerly attended St. Stanislaus, will leave Friday from New Orleans for induction into the U. S. Army. Also visiting the Gipsons over the weekend were the daughters, Mrs. L. J. Martello and three granddaughters, Jerlene, Darlene and Lauren Martello.

State College, Miss.—There was essentially no change in the amount of business activity in the Biloxi-Gulfport area during February 1953, according to the current issue of the Mississippi Business Review, monthly publication of the Business Research Station of the School of Business and Industry at Mississippi State College.

When compared with either January 1953 or February 1952, there was no measurable change, although the data collected seemed to indicate a minute decrease.

In Biloxi, three indicators fell under last February as follows: bank debits, 4 per cent; money order sales, 24 per cent; postal receipts, 26.1 per cent. Despite the fact that telephones in service, electric connections and gas connections had better records than a year earlier, the city showed a general loss of about 7 per cent. However, the comparison with the previous month was more favorable. There was a city wide gain of about 3 per cent. Increases in money sales, postal receipts, gas connections and electric connections were responsible for the increase.

Gulfport had more business activity than a year ago, but 4 per cent less than for January 1953. The comparison with last February gave the following changes in Gulfport: bank debits, up 12 per cent; money order sales, up 13.6 per cent; postal receipts, up 11 per cent; telephones in service, a gain of 8 per cent, electric connections, up 7 per cent, and gas connections, down 14 per cent. Bank debits, money orders issued, postal receipts, and electric connections were all under their records for January 1953.

Bay St. Louis was the only reporting city in the area with a greater volume of business activity during the month than for either February 1952 or January 1953. The former gain was 20 per cent and the latter was 8 per cent. All indicators ran higher than a year ago and only sales of phones in service failed to come up to the previous month's record.

Pass Christian and Piquayune each had less business activity than during either of the comparison periods. In Pass Christian the losses were 6 per cent under February 1952 and 9 per cent under January 1953, while Piquayune had a loss of 1 per cent for the February 1953 comparison and an 8 per cent loss for the January 1953 comparison.

The Business Research Station's index to general business activity in the city of Biloxi moved down during February 1953. It dropped from 676 per cent of the 1940 adjusted average to 654 per cent.

Eight Qualify for City Election

Three candidates have qualified with the Municipal Democratic Executive Committee of the City of Bay St. Louis, for the office of Mayor. Mayor Warren Carter will not seek re-election on May 12 in the Democratic primary election.

The Mayoral candidates include Joseph H. Benvenuti, Horace L. Kergosien and John Scalfie.

Candidates for City Commissioners include incumbents J. Cyril Glover and Sylvan J. Ladner Jr., Emilie J. Piazza, Nellius A. Favre and Ed Marquez.

Candidates as members of the Municipal Democratic Executive Committee of the City of Bay St. Louis are George F. Stevenson, Ben Hille and Maurice J. Arligues.

If necessary, the second primary will be held June 4; the elected officials will take office July 1, 1953.

When Lewis was arrested in Petersburg, officials found Mason's license and other identification on Lewis. Although he told a story that he had been given the car by three Negroes who had picked him up, New Orleans police went to Petersburg to return him to the City.

Lewis said he pawned the pistol at a shop in Savannah, Ga. Sheriff Egloff said the pistol was recovered Friday night by Georgia officers and was sent to Bay St. Louis. He said he received $20 for the pistol, using these funds and those taken from Mason for the purchase of gasoline and food. He said he also obtained some money from several Camp Stewart, Ga., soldiers he drove to camp from Savannah. He said he has been in the service two years.

The Orleans parish coroner's office, following an autopsy, said the man's death was caused by a gunshot wound of the skull. A Hancock County coroner's jury empaneled Friday night by Coroner Emile Piazza, returned a verdict that Mason came to his death by gunshot wounds inflicted by Mack C. Lewis on April 2. Members of the jury were Charles Murphy, H. G. Dean, William Kenny, Delmar Wilcox, Robert Blackwell and Sam Peterson. Sheriff Egloff served as bailiff. Lewis has been confined to an undisclosed jail.

On the day he was fatally shot, Mason was enroute to Biloxi to meet a brother, Ferrel Mason. Participating in the search, in addition to those mentioned were the New Orleans detectives, Deputies Paul Egloff, Sam Peterson, Coroner Piazza, State Patrol Inspector F. J. Whitman, Patrol Identification Chief, Andy Hopkins, Patrolman Blackwell, W. D. King, George Harper, Assistant Inspector Archie Fairly and civilians.

Mason, who was in the habit of picking up hitchhikers, that he was on his way home to visit his wife and one-month old child in Buffalo. In his confession, Lewis stated, "I wanted to take Mr. Mason's car. I waited until we passed the last bridge, then I pulled my revolver and made him pull off the road."

"We stopped, and I told Mr. Mason to get out of the car and throw me his wallet. He did, and I picked it up and took $35 from it and stuffed it into my clothes."

He said he then told Mason he was going to take his car and deliberated for five minutes what he should do with him.

over publishing the zoning ordinance.

The president appointed Octave Delph, W. W. Baltar, Paul Gaudet and Erle Kirkpatrick to serve as a temporary Zoning Committee to meet with the City Council.

Mr. Boh announced that he had asked Mrs. George Stevenson to serve as membership chairman for the organization and that she accepted the chairmanship. A motion was made and passed that the membership rolls be kept open until June 23, 1953, so that anyone desiring to become a charter member of the organization may do so.

The Board of Directors of the Property Owners' Association specifically requests that anyone wishing to see a copy of the Zoning Ordinance may do so by calling at the office of the secretary, Mrs. Richard Shadoin, in the Hancock Bank building at 112 Main street. The Board of Directors is anxious that the general public know the contents of this ordinance.

Kiln Project Reaches $7,000

"Although $20,000 is the goal for the Kiln Youth Center," Rev. Father Charles, pastor of the Church of the Annunciation, stated, "We could start construction with $15,000. We already have around $7,000."

Sunday, at Our Lady of the Gulf church, $526.85 was collected at the various Masses for the Youth Center. Father Charles would like to thank Rt. Rev. Monsignor Gmelch for the parishioners for their wonderful support.

A benefit supper will be given at Melva's Place, Kiln, Wednesday, April 22, for the proposed building. A donation of 50 cents will be asked.

The Sea Coast Echo

SEA COAST ECHO, FRIDAY, APRIL 17, 1953

The Wicker home is shown at the left in the photos above; in the center is an outside view of the home; and at the right, Mr. and Mrs. Wicker are shown in their living room.

"BRUSHY CREEK CHA-TOE"
 "Brushy Creek Cha-Toe," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wicker Sr., Pearlinton, Miss., located in the midst of a grove of moss-laden water oaks, is a dream come true.

Mr. Walker, General Superintendent of Railways, New Orleans Public Service Inc., was forced to retire because of failing health. Mr. and Mrs. Wicker began looking for a location where they could have quiet and rest and at the same time obtain some of the contacts which they had made. In 1949 they were advised this property was for sale and in September of that year closed the deal. At that time there was a small white cottage with a screened porch which seemed to blend in underneath the massive oaks. They moved in in February, 1951, and immediately began making plans to enlarge the building so that there would be room for the children and friends who they came for visits. In December of that year the work was begun, the job lasting until June, 1952, and culminating to the present lovely rambling home which means in and around the beautiful moss draped oaks.

"The work was drawn out," stated Mrs. Wicker, because we had to watch our dollars and make them go as far as possible. Since finances were definitely a problem, and Mr. Wicker needed a hobby to occupy his time, they did a good bit of the work on the residence. In addition, the Wickers either made or repaired 50% of the furniture for the home. There is a modern up-to-date work shop where they spend a greater part of their time. While showing us the work shop during this visit, Mr. Wicker said, "I cut the legs off of another chair and put them on this one, using airplane glue."

The job was the work of a professional and not one who had taken up a hobby to occupy his time. The chair he showed us was a small one made of hickory, and built by slaves. It was acquired from a family who had handed it down from generation to generation and estimated it to be over 100 years old.

The main part of the Wicker home consists of a living room 26 x 26 with over-head beams showing. At the north end of the living room is a fireplace 62 inches wide decorated with various copper and wrought iron trinkets. The living room was built on to the white cottage which was already there, retaining the original cottage in the present form of two bedrooms and the kitchen. Another item of interest in the living room was an old grandfather clock bearing an English trade mark and made in England around 1800.

Mrs. Wicker, in discussing the work and activities around the home stated that her day began at 7:00 o'clock in the morning and when the day is over "My work is still not finished." "I love it out here," she added "and would hate to live anywhere else."

Mrs. Wicker displayed a 5 x 8 foot "Daisy Scroll" rug which she is making and stated that when it is finished it would be worth about $1,000. She showed us other rugs in the home, all of which she had made in her spare time.

The dining room which is off from the living room is equally as attractive and charming. A walnut dining table, which was originally an old banquet table that would seat up to 50, occupies the center of the room. The table is of solid walnut and after being refinished by Mr. and Mrs. Wicker, is a show piece. The straight chairs which go with the table, were made by slaves and refinished by the Wickers. "I believe we took ten coats of paint off those chairs before we got down to the wood," stated Mrs. Wicker. The overhead fixtures in the dining room is made of an oxyoke with two electric lights. The break-front is equally as fascinating. They took an old fashioned kitchen safe, took off the doors, did a little decorating and finished it into a breakfront for their china and glassware.

They have just completed planting 80 small azaleas on the grounds surrounding the home. Mrs. Wicker has a kiln for making pottery if and when she finds time to do so. In addition to all of her home activities she is secretary of the Pearlinton Home Demonstration Club and was second place winner in the Hancock County Improvement Contest in 1952.

After living in New Orleans so many years "Brushy Creek Cha-Toe" setting back beneath the massive water oaks laden with moss, is truly their "Dream Come True."

Discuss Girl Scouts At S. J. A. Meeting

Mrs. W. W. Hausch spoke on Girl Scouts in Bay St. Louis at the meeting of the St. Joseph Academy Mothers' Club last week.

Mrs. Hausch asked the members to consider having a Girl Scout Camp here, and they were asked to assist in any way possible in Girl Scout work. The Girl Scouts are now going to Camp Bernard in Gulfport every summer.

Mrs. George Anderson won the entrance prize, and the junior class won the prize for having the most mothers present. Co-hostesses for the meeting were Mesdames Dan Ramell, Charles Wicker, P. C. Fitzpatrick and N. L. Sebastian.

"But, Pop—Don't You Love God, Too?"

The church bells are ringing and Jimmy and Jane are all dressed up ready to go. And so is Mother.

It's not "Pop." He seems to think that "keeping the Lord's Day holy" is all right for the children. For Pop himself, though, it is his day of rest... "It even says so in the Bible." Besides, he will insist, he "is better than some people who go to church regularly."

Not all "Pops" are like this, of course. But empty pews in countless churches bear witness to the numerous fathers... and mothers also... who are either indifferent concerning their obligation to worship God, or confused as to how they should do so.

There is confusion, in fact, even among those who recognize this obligation. Some Christians insist that the Sabbath (Saturday) is the day to be kept holy, as do Orthodox Jews. In this they are following the literal meaning of the Law of Moses and ignoring the practice of the Christian Church from Apostolic times, as sanctioned by Jesus Christ.

Our Lord Himself substituted the New Covenant for the Old, abrogating the law which made the Sabbath observance obligatory. Sunday became The Lord's Day of the Christians even during the lifetime of the Apostles. After several centuries, it became a world-wide law of the Church, which Christ had authorized to make laws.

There is also confusion as to what constitutes "keeping The Lord's Day holy." Catholics, for instance, must assist at Mass, or The Lord's Supper, under penalty of serious sin. Many other Christians also place great importance on unflinching participation in Sunday worship. But many think going to church, while a "nice thing to do," is not absolutely necessary. Christian opinion also varies concerning what work, and what pleasure, are permissible on The Lord's Day.

Even though you are not a Catholic... and perhaps never intend to be... it will be inspiring and valuable for you to learn the Catholic teaching and practice concerning The Lord's Day. For these teachings and practice date back to Apostolic times and have their origin in the teaching and example of The Master Himself. They give a clear and understandable guide to those who wish to manifest their love of the Lord on His Day.

by MRS. JOE ALLEN

DR. AND MRS. LITTLE RECEIVE MANY GUESTS IN LOVELY NEW HOME

Dr. and Mrs. Tom Little, whose originally designed functional home was completed just in time to be listed in this year's Gulf Coast Garden Tour, report that more than 150 people have already signed their Guest Book.

Mrs. Little, a graduate of the Newcomb school of art, was a member of the first class of interior decorating and architecture offered by that college. Through the years, she accumulated ideas which she expected to use at some future date in a home of her own. During the war Dr. Little spent a year in Yokohama and Tokyo, where he served as a surgeon attached to the First Cavalry Division. While living in the Orient, Mrs. Little completed her plans for a home which she would build after the fashion of a guest house on her mother's lot in Long Beach. She shopped the Oriental markets for materials and furnishings that would fit into her housing plan.

The Littles' older children Tom and Elaine, attended American schools in the Japanese area, Kay, a toddler, helped her mother and Eloise, who is now two years old, was born in Japan.

Actually there are eight rooms in the Littles' home, but each room is designed for several purposes which not only make the house more interesting but increases the capacity of the house to that of about 20 rooms. "The house was designed to bring the outdoors inside to create an atmosphere of cheerfulness and space." All of the colors used within the house blend with those outside and the house has a feeling of unity and completeness.

The large areas of glass used in the house are treated with match stick core drapes on traverse rods. The sliding panels of glass used across the west part of the living room work very smoothly and serve to make the garden an intriguing part of the living and dining room. A large window frames the southern exposure of the room overlooking a delightful informal garden colorful with iris, snapdragons, petunias, flowering pomegranate and delicate tea roses. Twin chests made of "kittywood" and called by the Japanese "Tonsu" are buckled together with wrought iron and add an interesting balance to the living room. Kittywood, explained Mrs. Little, "will absorb odors and makes wonderful camp or cedar chests." Other furnishings in the room are of rattan. The kitchen, partitioned off from the living room by louvered panels that may be folded into a compact unit, has a rock-garden view. This rock garden utilizes space to advantage, being constructed on a three-tier plan. The counter of the kitchen, which seats eight, is both mobile and tilts. In this way it may be pushed against the wall or removed entirely to give added house space for dancing or large entertainments.

Adding beauty to the kitchen area is the use of Oriental tile ornamented in the Kobe-Osaka tile kilns.

A charming alcove just off the living room serves as an entrance hall, guest bedroom or library. Cleverly concealed by panel sliding doors is a five foot closet. The alcove has a mirrored wall which reflects the entire living-dining room area and achieves spaciousness in effect. Here, as elsewhere throughout the house, every available inch of space has been utilized.

Bookshelves line the upper wall space and lower shelves display objects of art selected in Japan including Korean brass bud vases, Kutani China, porcelain figurines and other bric-a-brac. Large brass ash trays in the living room seem to have some odd design perforated in them, however, Mrs. Little says the design in the Korean words "Ash Tray." Wood block prints covering the four seasons hang behind a couch. The principal color theme is repeated and accentuated throughout the rooms with shades of flesh-pink to mulberry tones, blending harmoniously. Slip covers in a leaf pattern with shades of mulberry are again picked up in the broader colors of wall hangings.

While the bedrooms are small in dimension they are arranged to accommodate hobbies and interests of the various occupants. Their son, Tom, now 14 years old is adept in making model trains. Shelves above his bed is a track with locomotive and cars. A work bench in his room provides space for modeling.

Next to the car port is a room where the smaller girls entertain the tricycle set with tea parties.

Mrs. Little enjoyed planning her house and had pleasure in building it. She said her first job was to analyze her family in order to plan for their individual comforts.

Biggest vantage-point in the house is the use of slide panels. Swinging doors or doors on hinges are terrific space-wasters. Panels can be pulled across leaving any size entrance desired.

DOLL & PET SHOW: PUBLIC SCHOOL ON MAY DAY

On "May Day," Friday, May 1, the Elementary Department of the Pass Christian Public School will present its 16th annual Doll and Pet Show, according to an announcement made by the school's principal, Miss Naomi Saucier.

"Dolls, pets and flowers will be on exhibit and judges will award ribbons early in the afternoon," said Miss Saucier. The show will start at 2:30 p. m. and homemade cookies and punch will be offered for sale.

Highlight of the show will be the crowning of the Queen of May. This year's May Queen is Sharon Loker, daughter of Mrs. Shirla Loker. King of May is Tommy Latino. Children from the kindergarten will participate in the ceremonies and a program on the lawn is scheduled for the entertainment of their majesties. The public is cordially invited to attend this function.

PASS HIGH EVENTS

On Saturday last the comedy, "No Boys Allowed," presented by the Junior Class of Pass High, was attended by a large audience who declared the play was humorous and good entertainment. Proceeds from the play ran approximately $88 and this money will help along the Junior-Senior Prom.

The seniors scheduled their annual play for the evening of May 8. Full cast of characters will be released next week.

The fence, long scheduled for erection on the grade school "little playground," is to be erected immediately.

High school students interested in Tennis are playing a game greatly improved over last year's efforts.

A SYMPATHETIC EAR

While farmers generally are not quite sure whether they like the new Republican administration of the Department of Agriculture or not and are uneasy over the future of the price support program, one segment of agriculture has found that change in administration has resulted in their receiving a much more sympathetic hearing of problems than that heretofore accorded them. The tung growers of south Mississippi and other Gulf Coastal areas, who in the past have been rebuffed in their appeals for some protection against competition from coarser or other cheap labor abroad, found a responsive ear when they were represented by the two industry groups to Washington for conferences with Secretary Benson's top aides. Two meetings in March have now borne fruit with the announcement on April 7 by the Production and Marketing Administration that import quotas on tung oil were being established.

These quotas will limit imports during the period from April 8 through June 30 to 2 million pounds of tung oil. This action was taken under the terms of a provision of the Defense Production Act of 1950 requiring the Secretary of Agriculture to limit imports on fats and oils to such quantities as will not impair domestic production, interfere with orderly storing or marketing, or result in unnecessary burdens or expenditures under any price support program. Tung oil is supported at 62.2 percent of parity, which amounts to 26.5 cents per pound. Recent imports from Argentina have beaten down the price to such an extent that, unless some relief was provided, the Commodity Credit Corporation would have to take over most of the present crop at a burden to the taxpayers and a loss to the producers.

The tung industry's spokesmen at the meetings with the Agriculture officials recommended an import quota at 1½ million pounds per quarter rather than the higher figure established by the Department. The industry further was unhappy over the fact that the Department did not act promptly upon the recommendation, for this delay permitted nearly 2½ million pounds of Argentina oil to get in under the deadline. Thus the industry did not get anything like all it asked for, but the president of imposing a quota on foreign importations of tung oil was established, and industry leaders expect this to lay the groundwork for a program of orderly marketing by spreading imports over the whole year and thus avoiding the dumping of millions of pounds of foreign oil on the market just as the domestic crop is ready for sale.

Legion Auxiliary Plans Smorgasbord for April 30

At the monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday, April 13, plans for the Smorgasbord supper, to be held April 30, were made.

Proceeds from the supper will be used to send representatives to Girls' State.

Supper will be served from 5:00 to 8:30 p. m. Adults and children are invited.

A Gloriful Event At The Seminary

Consecration of Bishop Bowers, April 22

Bay St. Louis (Special)—A gloriful event at Saint Augustine's Seminary will be the consecration of Bishop Bowers, S. V. D., April 22.

It is a commonplace in a religious community such as the Society of the Divine Word to wink and speak of it as a "family." In fact this idea of a "family" is more than a mere simile, figure or picture. The purpose and functions of the God-created family in its natural order and form as the fundamental unit in mankind are broadened and elevated in the religious community to the plane of a more spiritualized family, but a family no less, with special emphasis on the spiritual side, values and objects. Accordingly events, good and bad, joyful or sorrowful, losses or gains, successes or failures in the fields of the Society's activities or otherwise within its scope will be felt and appraised by reactions of mind and heart similar to those active in the attitude of mind and heart in the members of the average human family.

This is at present in the S. V. D. family especially acute in appraising the event of the elevation of one of its members to the high and apostolic rank of a bishop, and his impending consecration.

The elevation and consecration of a priest to the high dignity of the episcopal office is an event of wide interest and often enough of great importance everywhere. And yet, in this present case there is a special significance attached to the consecration of this bishop, not only in the minds of the members of the S. V. D., because he is one of them, but also in the minds of the Catholic public in general and even in wide circles outside the Catholic Church. All of which in return will make this event the occasion of special joy and satisfaction—and of thanks—giving to God—within the S. V. D. family.

The reasons for it? They are easily found first of all in the historical background. There was a time, and this time is less than 25 years ago, that the thought of having a Negro priest in America would have been nothing but a delightful "midsummer night's dream" or a fantastic unreal bit of "wishful thinking."

Those of the older members of the S. V. D. family here, in the States remember only too well all the heartaches and headaches which were a byword for our missionary efforts among the Colored of the South, especially with regard to the foundation of the College and Seminary for the training of priests from the ranks of the Colored population. There were prejudices, doubts and uncertainties, even fear and direct opposition in high and low places. But they were for the greater part outside the ranks of the S. V. D.

In true missionary fashion, in a combination of idealism or optimism and realism, most of those within the S. V. D. weighed and appraised the values and potentialities of the whole problem and no less the duty and task of the Catholic body in general and the Church in particular toward bringing the Colored part of our population into the true fold of Christ, the Catholic Church.

The result of all this was a wholehearted decision and determination to found and conduct the institution in which latent vocations for the priesthood among the Colored Catholics could find their realization in becoming priests. This situation has been for years also a vital problem for the hierarchy of our country, and it was with a feeling of relief and satisfaction that the bishops here learned of the Society's plan. More than one bishop has at various times attested to this fact, especially since after much cautious observing and watching, and also encouraging St. Augustine's Seminary at Bay St. Louis, Miss., not only has survived what obstacles at times were in its way, but its actual fruits and results in the form of, by now, almost three dozen Colored priests, has justified its existence and the labors and sacrifices that have up to now gone into it.

Besides, the numbers and names of the now living and working Colored who are either priest members of the Society or who have had their start or part of the training at our seminary and now work either as religious of other orders or as diocesan priests, are not in the only fruit. The existence, work, influence and results of this seminary and the other missionary work connected with it have to a considerable extent been responsible for the gradual breakdown of the wall that for some reasons, and no reasons but an un-Christian way of thinking and actions, had been erected around the colored race in this country. Today most of the seminarians and many colleges are open and many "white" parishes more friendly to Negroes than it was thought possible a quarter of a century ago. This is not an expression of vain glory on our part but just stating a historical fact.

And because it is a fact, we in the S. V. D. family have reason to rejoice, especially since the consecration of Bishop Bowers is, in the line of this progress, a crowning event, indeed a milestone in the Catholic effort to solve the Negro problem on the basis and with the means and spirit of the religion of justice and charity as preached by Christ, who recognizes them irrespective of their color as children of God called to the same salvation as their white fellow-men.

From 1947 to 1950 he also had the office of an assistant to the Regional Superior. In 1951 he returned to Rome for further studies in Canon Law leading to the degree of a licentiate. Bishop Bowers brings to his office as the new Bishop an excellent command of English and French and three native languages, spoken in his diocese of Accra, a wide knowledge of British Civil Law, many sided missionary experiences and a warm place in the hearts of the people of the Gold Coast. All of which will make us members of our and his S. V. D. family rejoice and wish him from our hearts: "Ad Multos Annos!"

Southern Bell Appoints Fulton National Bank As Trustee For $30,000,000 Debenture Issue

Fred J. Turner, president of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, today announced the selection of the Fulton National Bank of Atlanta as trustee for a $30,000,000 Southern Bell debenture issue.

Issuance of the 24-year debenture was announced on March 23. Selection of the trustee was announced following a meeting of Southern Bell's Board of Directors Wednesday.

In addition to acting as trustee,
the Fulton National Bank will act jointly with the Marine Midland Trust Company, New York, as paying agent and registrar.

A registration statement will be filed with the securities and exchange commission on April 9, with a request that it be made effective on April 24, after that date, invitations for bids will be published for the purchase of the debentures.

The continued heavy demand for telephone service in the South has increased tremendously. Southern Bell's requirements for capital funds and proceeds from sale of the debentures will help meet this need.

Farrelly Named To Star Club

New York, N. Y.—April 13—Bernard J. Farrelly, Bay St.

County Agent's Notes By HOWARD SIMMONS

How much corn per acre are you going to make this year?
Providing you get favorable weather and follow Extension Service recommendations, it is easy to make from 50 to 100 bushels on every acre that your plant.

Here are some pointers. Select well drained land. Do not plant corn on high dry hillsides. Prepare a good seedbed. In hill sections fertilize at planting time with 26 pounds of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash. When the corn is knee high, sidedress with an additional 60 to 90 pounds of nitrogen.

Plant an adapted variety. Your local county agent will tell you varieties to plant. Plant on time.
In South Mississippi planting times are from late March to Mid-April.

Ask your county agent for a free copy of Extension Publication 253, "Corn, 1953." It contains all the necessary information for making high yields.

SPRING JERSEY SALE
The 19th annual Mississippi Jersey Cattle Club Spring Consignee Sale will be held at Okibbeha County Fair Grounds, Monday, April 27, beginning at 12:30 p. m.

The fairgrounds are located on Highway 12 about one mile west of Starkville.

Cattle included in the sale will be around seven fresh or close springer cows, a few close spring-ers or heifers, 18 heifers bred to freshen in the fall and winter, and around 35 young heifers six to fifteen months of age.

The animals consigned to the sale are selected from the better herds in Mississippi and probably represent some of the best Jersey females ever offered in one of these spring sales.

LIVESTOCK INSECTS Horn flies and screwworms are beginning to show up in many parts of Mississippi. Horn flies weaken cattle and cause a loss of one-half pound of beef gain per day or a 15 percent drop in milk production. With the present spread between prices received and costs of production, you cannot afford to take the loss caused by horn flies.

Control them. Spray your cattle with one-half percent DDT methoxychlor or toxaphene solution. On milking cows, use only methoxychlor.

Screwworms often cause the death of infested animals. Be sure to treat all new and open sores, cuts and abrasions with either Smeaz, E. G. 335 or U. S.
Smeaz 62. The E. G. 335 is a mixture of three percent lindane and 35 percent pine oil mixed with other ingredients. It kills both the maggots and adult flies.

For more information on controlling these pests and for mixing your insecticides see your county agent. Ask him for a free copy of Extension Publication 214, "Control Cattle Pests."

Bro. Felician Speaks On Recent Stay in Rome

Brother Felician, S. C., vice-president of St. Stanislaus, gave an interesting and entertaining talk on his recent stay in Rome at the meeting of the National Council of Catholic Women held in Bay St. Louis Wednesday, April 8.

Mrs. Alden Mauffray, in the absence of Mrs. Pat Koehn, president, presided.

The speaker gave a vivid account of his visit with His Holiness Pius XII, including his experience of being present at the Consistory of the Cardinals held January 15. He had the pleasure of sitting near the newly-named prelate, Cardinal McIntire, Archbishop of Los Angeles, Calif.

In speaking of the political and economic situation in France and Italy, Brother reported that it was estimated that at least 70,000 Italians have resigned from the Italian Communist party.

Attending the meeting were Rt. Rev. Monsignor A. J. Gmelch, Rev. Fathers Hugh Taylor, John

Robinson and John Leonard, Mrs. Ben Hill, president of the Altus Society and first vice-president of the N. C. C. W. and representatives of the Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, Gulfport and Long Beach units.

Yacht Club Supper

The regular supper will be held Saturday night at the Bay Waveland Yacht Club. Mrs. Henry B. Chapman will be hostess for the night.

The deadline for candidates to qualify to run in the City Election has now past.

Every opponent seeking the position of Commissioner, which I now hold, is a personal friend of mine. I hold no ill will against any of them for seeking to unseat me.

My promise to you and them is that I am going to keep my Campaign on a high plane, and I hope my opponents will do likewise. In that way, we start out friends, and regardless of the outcome of the Election, we will remain personal friends.

My candidacy is based strictly on my Record - four years of constructive improvements for our City.

Some of these improvements are:

1. Construction of Sand Beach and five (5) Playgrounds
2. Black-topped thirty (30) streets throughout the City
3. Purchased new 750-gallon per minute Fire Engine
4. Drilled a new 8 inch Water Well and installed new 4 inch pipe
5. Repainted interior of City Hall building and installed tile flooring throughout.
6. Cooperated in obtaining additional school and recreational facilities.

7. Purchased two (2) new Dump Trucks for garbage collection and street maintenance
8. Reduced advalorem taxes each year down to present 35 mills
9. Increased salaries of all City Employees
10. Instituted fogging program for pest and insect control
11. Restored City to sound financial basis and reduced bond debt from $221,000 to $97,000.00.
12. Presently installing new permanent concrete posts showing names of streets throughout the City
